IN MEMORY OF CONKLING.

AN ORATION DELIVERED BY COLONEL
ROBERT G. INGERSOLL

In the Academy of Music, Albany, Under the Auspices of the State Legislature. Over Thirty-Five Hundred Persons Present—Hundreds Turned Away.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 11.—Thirty-five hundred persons in the Academy of Music in this city Wednesday night listened to an oration by Col. Robert G. Ingersoll to the memory of Roscoe Conkling, and one-fourth as many more besieged the barred doors, while many climbed to the roof and peeped through the skylights. The ceremonies were under the auspices of the senate and assembly. Col. Ingersoll said:

"Roscoe Conkling, a great man, an orator, a statesman, a lawyer, a distinguished citizen of the republic, in the zenith of his fame and power has reached his journey's end, and we are met, here in the city of his birth, to pay our tribute to his worth and work. He earned and held a proud position in the public thought. He stood for independence, for courage, and above all for absolute integrity, and his name was known and honored by many millions of his fellow men."

"In the presence of death the Good Man judges as he would be judged. He knows that men are only fragments, that the greatest walk in shadow, and that faults and failures mingle with the lives of all. In the grave should be buried the prejudices and passions born of conflict. Charity should hold the scales in which are weighed the deeds of men. Peculiarities, traits born of locality and surrounding, these are but the dust of the race, these are accident, drapery, clothes, fashion, that have nothing to do with the man except to hide his character. They are the clouds that cling to mountains. Time gives us clearer vision. That which was merely local fades away, the words of envy are forgotten, and all there is of sterling worth remains."

"Fortunate is that nation great enough to know the great. When a great man dies, one who has nobly fought the battle of a life, who has been faithful to every trust, and has uttered his highest, noblest thought, one who has stood proudly by the right in spite of jeer and taunt, neither stopped by foe nor swayed by friend, in honoring him in speaking words of love above his dust, we pay a tribute to ourselves. How poor this world would be without its graves, without the memories of its mighty dead. Only the voiceless speak forever."

"In a government of the people a leader should be a teacher; he should carry the torch of truth. Most people are the slaves of habit, followers of customs, believers in the wisdom of the past, and were it not for brave and splendid souls, 'The dust of antique time would lie unswept, and mountainous error be too highly heaped for truth to overpeer.'"

"Custom is a prison, locked and barred by those who long ago were dust, the keys of which are in the keeping of the dead. Nothing is grander than when a strong, iron-bred man breaks chains, levels walls and breasts the many-headed mob-like some great cliff that meets and mocks the innumerable billows of the sea. The politician hastens to agree with the majority, insists that their prejudices be patriotism, that their ignorance be wisdom, not that he loves them, but because he loves himself. The statesman, the real reformer, points out the mistakes of the multitude, attacks the prejudices of his countrymen, laughs at their follies, denounces their cruelties, enlightens and enlarges their minds and educates the conscience, not because he loves himself, but because he loves and serves the right and wishes to make his country great and free."

"When real history shall be written by the truthful and the wise, these men, these kneelers at the shrines of chance and fraud, these brazen idols, worshipped once as Gods, will be the very food of scorn, while those who bore the burden of defeat, who earned and kept their self-respect, who would not bow to man or men for place or power, will wear upon their brows the laurel mingled with the oak."

"Roscoe Conkling was a man of superb courage. He not only acted without fear, but he had that fortitude of soul that bears the consequences of the course pursued without complaint. He was charged with being proud. The charge was true, he was proud. His knees were as inflexible as the 'unwieldable and gnarled oak,' but he was not vain. Vanity rests on the opinion of others, pride on our own. The source of vanity is from without, of pride, from within. Vanity is a vine that turns, a willow that bends, with every breeze; pride is the oak that defies the storm. One is a cloud, the other rock. One is weakness, the other strength."

"He was the ideal representative, faithful and incorruptible. He believed that his constituents and his country were entitled to the fruits of his experience, to his best and high thought. No man ever held the standard of responsibility higher than he. He voted according to his judgement, his conscience. He made no bargains, he neither bought nor sold. To correct evils, abolish abuses and inaugurate reforms he believed was not only the duty, but the privilege, of a legislator. He neither sold nor mortgaged himself. He was in congress during the years of vast expenditure, of war and waste, when the credit of the nation was loaned to individuals; when claims were thick as leaves in June; when the amendment of a statute, a change of a single word meant millions, and when empires were given to corporations. He stood at the summit of his power, peer of the greatest, a leader tried and trusted. He had the tastes of a prince, the fortune of a peasant, and yet he never swerved. No corporation was great enough or rich enough to purchase him. His vote could not be bought 'for all the sun sees, or the close earth womb, or the profound seas hide.' His hand was never touched by any bribe, and on his soul there never was a sordid stain. Poverty was his priceless crown."

"He was a student of the constitution. He knew the boundaries of state and Federal jurisdiction, and no man was more familiar with these great decisions that are the peaks and promontories, the headlands and the beacons of the law."

"He was an orator, earnest, logical, intense and picturesque. He laid the foundation with care, with accuracy and skill, and rose by 'cold gradation and well balanced form,' from the corner stone of statement to the domed conclusion. He filled the stage. He satisfied the eye, the audience was his. He had that indefinable thing called presence."

"He had no pretence with pretence, with patriotic reasons for unmanly acts. He did his work and bravely spoke his thoughts. Sensitive to the last degree, he keenly felt the blows and stabs of the envious and obscure, of the smallest of the weakest, but the greatest could not drive him from conviction's field. He would not stop to ask or give an explanation. He left his words and deeds to justify themselves. He held in light esteem a friend who heard with half believing ears the slander of a foe. He walked a highway of his own, and kept the company of his self-respect. He would not turn aside to avoid a foe, to greet or gain a friend."

"In his nature there was no compromise. To him there were but two faiths—the right and wrong. He was maligned, misrepresented and misunderstood, but he would not answer. He knew that character speaks louder far than any words. He was as silent then as he is now, and his silence, better than any form of speech, refuted every charge."

"And as he lived, he died. Proudly he entered the darkness, or the dawn, that we call death. Unshrinkingly, he passed beyond our horizon, beyond the twilight's purple hills, beyond the utmost reach of human harm or help—to that vast realm of silence or of joy where the immortal dwell, and he has left with us his wealth of thought and deed, the memory of a brave, imperious, honest man who bowed alone to death."

GRANT'S BIRTHPLACE.

It Will Be on Exhibition at Cincinnati During the Centennial.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The World publishes a special from Batavia, O., saying that the house in which Gen. Grant was born has been leased by Col. Morton L. Hawkins, ex-sheriff of Hamilton county, and will be on exhibition for one hundred days at the approaching centennial exposition in Cincinnati. It is to be lifted from its present foundation, put on a float and floated down the river to Cincinnati. There it will be put on wheels and taken to the exposition grounds, where it may be seen at so much per peep. Its lessees hope to preserve the old building intact, and in its present excellent condition of repair as nearly as possible.

They have also secured a good many Grant mementos and will make a first-class curiosity shop out of it. The people of Point Pleasant dislike the idea of removing the old house, as many fear it will never come back. Since it is to go on wheels and be carted around the country, they naturally expect to hear of its being hauled to Columbus, where there is to be another Ohio centennial in September.

NATURAL GAS EXPLOSIONS

Cause Several Fires in Buffalo—A Cathedral Burned—Other Fires.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 11.—An explosion of natural gas in the kitchen of Dr. Pierce's invalid hotel at 9 o'clock this morning, caused a blaze that threatened the destruction of the building. The guests were hurried out, but the flames were confined to the basement, with slight damage.

Fifteen minutes later another explosion occurred at St. Paul's Episcopal cathedral. By the time the firemen reached the spot the whole interior was in flames, and within a half an hour the edifice was completely gutted. At least a dozen other explosions occurred at different points throughout the city. An explosion in North Street church caused a blaze which was extinguished by the firemen. The residence of Mr. Harry Hamilton, on Delaware avenue, also sustained slight damage from the same cause.

The reasons assigned for the explosions is the breaking of a valve in the standpipe at East Buffalo, which controls the pressure of gas in the city pipes.

St. Paul's cathedral was one of the finest church edifices in western New York, and cost $105,000. The insurance is $55,000, which, it is thought, will cover the loss.

Just as the firemen were entering the kitchen at Pierce's hotel a second explosion occurred, badly injuring four of their number. The damage to the hotel was slight.

A Theater Panic.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The celebration of the thirteenth anniversary of the Atlantic garden by a display of fireworks last night very nearly resulted in a disastrous panic in the Thalia theater, next door. Herr Barnay was playing a farewell performance of "Uriel Acosta." The smoke from the fireworks found its way through the skylight of the garden, and was wafted into the overlooking windows of the Thalia. An unknown man sitting in the gallery saw the smoke, and instantly yelled "Fire!" The house was packed, and those sitting in the auditorium looked up, and, noticing the smoke, made a rush for the exits. A terrible crush followed, and before the excitement was allayed several women were crushed and many faint.

NOT AT ALL DISTURBED.

HOW MR. FULLER TREATS THE REPUBLICAN CHARGES

Against His Past Record—An Intimate Friend Says He Was True to the North During the Late Rebellion—Mr. Fuller Refuses to Be Interviewed.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The World's Chicago special says: Republican newspapers, particularly in the east, have, within the past few days, contained several serious charges concerning Melville W. Fuller's past record, notably during the war. Mr. Fuller was a member of the famous "peace legislature" of Illinois, and in January, 1863, it is alleged, introduced a bill to ratify the Corwin amendment to the constitution of the United States.

The amendment was passed just before the close of the Buchanan administration and prohibited interference with slavery in any state. The Illinois vote was only six six days subsequent to Lincoln's first proclamation of emancipation. The amendment was finally passed by the joint resolution of the Illinois legislature.

It is also charged that on February 4 Mr. Fuller voted for a resolution and preamble which protested against further prosecution of the war. A few days later, according to these statements, Mr. Fuller voted against a bill to extend the right of suffrage to the volunteer soldiers of Illinois in the service of the United States. On June 8 Mr. Fuller voted for resolutions denouncing the military authorities for banishing C. L. Valandigham "as an outlaw and exile from his home into the enemy's country, for the offense of only having exercised the right of free speech."

On June 10 Richard Yates, the war governor, prorogued the "peace legislature." A resolution for fixing a day for final adjournment had passed the senate and was sent to the house for concurrence. In the house it was amended by the insertion of another day. Under this condition of affairs, on June 10, 1863, Governor Yates sent to the legislature a message to the effect that by virtue of the power vested in him by the state constitution, he declared the general assembly adjourned to the Saturday next, preceding the first Monday in January, 1865. After the reading of this message the minority or administration party, withdrew from the house, thus being the majority without a quorum.

Being rendered powerless for the further transaction of business the majority entered upon the records a protest against the action of the governor, and informally left their seats. Mr. Fuller was prominent in the ranks of the opposition, and from a special committee on the subject submitted a protest denouncing the action of the governor. Mr. Fuller arraigned Governor Yates' act as arbitrary, illegal, unconstitutional and outrageous, a monstrous usurpation of power and a nefarious attempt to stop the legislation of the state.

Mr. Fuller will not talk except to his most intimate friends. One of these friends, a long and close confidante of Mr. Fuller, who knows more of his thoughts than any other man alive, was asked by the World correspondent about the supposed opposition in the senate. The friend said: "Mr. Fuller is not in the least disturbed at the possibility of such opposition. It is reported that the Republicans have unearthed a lot of charges against him, but which are entirely false. Now let them find out the actual truth. They will find it much different from anything they have asserted."

"It has been said that Mr. Fuller was in sympathy with the south during the rebellion, and an opponent of the war. What are the facts?"

"There is not one word of truth in that story. I was in Mr. Fuller's confidence during the whole period of the war. I know absolutely that he did not waver one moment in all his allegiance to the north."

SUNDAY CLOSING.

The First Case in Cincinnati Results in Conviction.

CINCINNATI, May 11.—"Guilty" was the verdict in the Munzbrock Owen Sunday closing case in the police court. The jury wrestled with the case from 4 p. m. Wednesday until 10 p. m.

It is understood the first ballot stood six to six. On the fifth ballot seven voted for acquittal. On the ninth two voted for acquittal. Only one voted for acquittal on the seventeenth. All voted for conviction on the twenty-fifth. William Ernst was the last juror to hold out.

Sentence was deferred, and the defendant was put under a $500 bond, which was furnished. Defendant's attorneys gave notice that they would file a bill of exceptions and take the case to the common pleas court.

At Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., May 11.—J. L. Cain, keeper of a concert saloon, was heavily dosed. He went before Judge Pugh and pleaded guilty to the charge of giving a theatrical performance on Sunday contrary to the Owen law.

The court assessed a fine of $75 and costs, amounting in all to $99.44, and sentenced Cain to thirty days in the county jail. Sentence was suspended for two weeks to allow the prisoner to visit his mother, who is supposed to be dying in Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON.

The Rogers Bill to Be Favorably Reported.

Other Notes.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The house committee on judiciary has agreed to report favorably the Rogers bill, extending the criminal jurisdiction of the circuit court and district court to the great lakes, or any bay, strait or other navigable waters connecting or connected with the lakes, on board of any vessel belonging in whole or in part to the United States, or any citizen thereof, with like force and effect as if the same were committed upon the high seas; and the trial of all such crimes and offenses not committed within any state shall be in the district where the offender is found, or into which he is first brought into.

A favorable report was also agreed to on Oates bill to prevent cruelty to domestic animals. It prohibits failure to properly feed, shelter and care for domestic animals, to override, overdrive, overload, torture, beat or mutilate, and fixes a punishment for the offense, a fine of not more than $100, and upon failure to pay imprisonment at hard work for not longer than one hundred days.

The house adopted the conference report on the joint resolution authorizing the president to arrange a conference for the purpose of promoting arbitration and encouraging reciprocal commercial relations between the United States and the republics of Mexico and Central and South America and the empire of Brazil.

A bill making an appropriation of $450,000 to supply a deficiency in the appropriation for the expenses of collections of revenues from customs for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1888, was called up and passed with amendments appropriating $3,500,000 to supply a deficiency in the appropriation for the payment of pensioners of the war of 1812. Tariff debate was then resumed.

Tariff Caucus.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The tariff bill caucus held by the Democrats of the house last night was attended by 131 members. The session was brief, lasting little more than an hour. Messrs. Randall, Vance, McAdoo and other protectionist Democrats were present, while Messrs. O'Neill, Foran and Merriman were absent. Mr. Mills offered a resolution, which was adopted without opposition, directing that all proposed amendments to the bill be referred to the Democratic members of the ways and means committee, who are to pass upon and report to another caucus in the near future.

It is understood that a great many proposed amendments were tendered relating chiefly to wool, glassware and metals; but in the meantime other proposed amendments are to be handed in to the Democratic members of the committee. Another resolution was adopted by the caucus proposing that the daily sessions of the house shall begin at 11 a. m.; and still another requesting each and every Democratic member to pledge himself to be present at the house when the tariff bill is taken up and considered by sections.

May Crop Report.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The department of agriculture May crop report issued to-day reports reduced condition of winter wheat in central states, as a result of low temperature and deficient rainfall. On the Atlantic coast notwithstanding cool weather, not favorable to improvement, it has nearly held its own. From the southwest a delay in cotton planting is reported, owing to wet and cool weather in February and March. On the coast from South Carolina to Mississippi planting is up to its average advancement.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY.
Proprietors.

FRIDAY EVEN'G, MAY 11, 1888.

Colonel Swore and Colonel Goodloe have laid aside their tomahawks and are smoking the pipe of peace.

We are more convinced than ever that our "beautiful city under the hills" "never does anything by halves," and we think our recent visitors will agree with us.

How would this quartette of distinguished Democrats strike you for delegates-at-large from this State to the St. Louis convention: Hon. Henry Watterson, Hon. James B. McCreary, Hon. James A. McKenzie and Hon. W. C. P. Breckinridge?

ALL is not serene and lovely in the camp of the Kentucky Republicans. The defeated Sheramites have stuck a "razor" down in their boot-leg for Billy Bradley and his gang, and here is some more of the story as told by the Louisville Times:

The colored Republicans were snubbed in the Republican State Convention and took their revenge by sitting down hard on their Irish fellow citizens. Had the man and brother used his razor a little earlier in the proceedings, the Hon. Gentry would have been chosen one of the delegates-at-large.

We might add that Hon. Matt O'Doherty, the leading Irish Republican in Kentucky, was defeated for delegate-at-large to the Chicago convention. The prospects do not seem bright for harmony in the camp of our enemy.

Stock, Field and Farm.

At a recent stock sale in Shelbyville Lee Thomas bought three horses for $520.

The fruit is safe yet in spite of the croaking of the gloomy prophets.—Fleming Times-Democrat.

Sam Davis & Bro., of Rectorville, shipped twelve horses last Monday evening, on the Bonanza, to parties at Bloomington, Ill.

In Henry County tobacco plants are scarce. Farmers have resown their beds, but the second sowing has not made its appearance.

Messrs. Clay & Woodford and John S. Clarke, of Bourbon County, sold 42 head of horses last Saturday for $53,300, an average of $1,329. One bay colt by Hindoo brought $8,200.

"Serenade," a handsome chesnut filly purchased by H. D. Watson, of Shannon, of H. C. McDowell, of Ashland Stock Farm, near Lexington, has arrived at "Ashwood" in good condition, barring a slight cold taken on the cars. She is by King Rene, son of Belmont. She is a remarkably fine filly with strong blood line indications. She has been worked as a three-year-old and can trot in fifty.

A special from Falmouth says: "The caterpillars have been very destructive to fruit and other trees in this locality the past week, and in some instances the trees have been entirely ruined. Some trees appear as if covered with a light net or canvas. It is also feared that the tobacco plants will be short in this county by the depredations of bugs, which eat the plants as soon as they appear above the ground, and in most cases the entire beds have been destroyed."

The following is the report of sales and shipments made by Mose Daulton & Co. since our last report: Sold to A. P. Darnell for Ashland parties one extra bay combined gelding, by Dick Wagoner, $300; shipped to P. A. McGovern, Dayton, Ohio, two saddle geldings; to W. H. Ford, Cleveland, O., one saddle and harness gelding; to Charles Kahn, Jr., Cincinnati, O., two combined geldings; to Swetnam & Scott, Covington, one fine saddle and harness gelding (for D. B. Mitchell and Lee Thomas).

Henry Jefferson, the busman, has purchased the Ed Berry half interest in "Major Nichols," the noted Almont sire that is now making his permanent headquarters at "Ashwood," the farm of H. D. Watson, of Shannon. "Major Nichols" is now in his eleventh year and is coming to the front as the sire of a number of trotters. One of his colts sold to a party in Missouri as a yearling for $450, and is now claimed as a race horse. James Miller, of Bourbon, bought one of his colts of Dr. Davis, of Mayslick, for $300; has him now in training at Paris, and has refused a $1,200 offer for him. Several colts in Mason are showing a good deal of speed.

An Old Letter.

The following letter was picked up on the wharfoat few days ago:

SOUTH BEND, IND., Aug. 24, '40.
P. M., Maysville, Ky.: You will please inform me, at Columbus, O., the course a letter would take from your office to Philadelphia. I desire particularly to know, if at all, at what point it would strike the National Road. I have in my mind now, a reported case of depredation partly reported by you of 11 July. Your obedient servant,
Geo. W. Matthews, Sp. Agt. P. O. D.
Also, would it go under protection of the Brass Lock, and any other information you may suppose will aid in detecting the depredator.

QUIETLY WEDDED.

Marriage of Miss Mattie Stockton to Mr. Ashby Burke.

The residence of Colonel and Mrs. John M. Stockton on West Second street was the scene of a happy and joyous event at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The occasion was the celebration of the nuptials of Miss Mattie Stockton and Mr. Ashby Burke. Rev. Dr. John S. Hays, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated and spoke the words that linked the young couple in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was brief but impressive, and was witnessed by the relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom. The spacious parlors had been tastefully arranged for the occasion, and were crowded with the guests. The bride is the youngest daughter of Colonel and Mrs. John M. Stockton, and is one of the loveliest and most charming of Maysville's many fair maids.

The groom is a son of Captain and Mrs. Thomas Burke, of Staunton, Va., his father being the present postmaster of that city. He first met his fair bride a year or so ago. Their acquaintance soon ripened into love and the couple have ever since been devoted to each other, the marriage yesterday being the culmination of a happy courtship.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, and congratulations from the many friend and relatives present, a sumptuous repast was served.

The couple left on the afternoon train for Staunton, where an elegant reception awaits them. They will make their home at Elmo, W. Va., where the groom and his brother have charge of extensive coal mines, the property of their father.

MAYSVILLE has been having a gay time this week, thanks to the Sir Knights, but we will now have to drop back into every-day life.

The Scottish Rite, or Thirty-second Degree, was conferred Wednesday on Sir Knights John H. Hall, W. C. Miner and James K. Lloyd.

JAMES DUDLEY MUSE, aged thirty-five years, dropped dead in his store at Muse's Mills, Fleming County, Wednesday morning, of heart disease.

TO PREVENT flies, bugs and other insects from entering your house get wire screens for your doors and windows, from the Maysville Manufacturing Company.

THE Superior Court has overruled the motion for an appeal in the case of the Maysville & Lexington Turnpike Company against Linville, taken up from Nicholas County.

Mrs. THOMAS GRAY, living about four miles north of Aberdeen, gave birth to twin sons four years ago. Yesterday she presented her husband with twin daughters. All are doing well.

SAYS the Lexington Transcript: "The intelligent compositor insisted on making us speak of C. B. Pearce as the 'barber from Maysville.' He is a big banker all the same, and we do not know that he has ever shaved anybody in his life, not even as much as himself."

Mrs. ELISA WALKER, wife of S. F. M. Walker died last evening at 6 o'clock at the family residence, corner of Commerce street and Forest avenue. She had been ill but a few days with pneumonia. Her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Homer Frederick, survive her. Funeral to-morrow at 2:30 o'clock at her late home, services by Rev. W. S. Priest.

Mr. W. B. CARPENTER, of Cincinnati, proprietor of Carpenter's mammoth book store and printing, binding and ruling establishment, was in the city the past few days attending the Knight Templar conclave, and favored the BULLETIN with a call. Mr. Carpenter is an old Maysville man, and although it is twenty years since he left he still takes a lively interest in Maysville affairs.

OWENS & BARKLEY have just received several sizes of lawn mowers. Will be sold at lower prices than ever before. Also large lot of fishing reels, rods, lines, hooks, minnow seines, seines from twelve to seventy-five feet long, at wholesale and retail. Stock of barbed and annealed fence wire and fence staples. All will be sold at the lowest prices. Corn planters—"Eagle," "Buckeye" and "Victor."

"Little Muffets."

Miss Jennie Calef and her really good company began an engagement before an audience of remarkable size, and her play of "Little Muffets" was greeted with applause, the abundance of which must have proved conclusively that it has its peculiar attractions. Miss Calef is a vivacious actress, and has a play that is well calculated to display her versatility. There is plenty of variety in it, and the dialogue is frequently crisp and pungent. "Little Muffets" is in four acts, and, as before said, is presented by a company considerably above the average. It is sure of a successful run this week, and is deserving of it.—Louisville Commercial.

[At opera house next Monday and Tuesday nights. See "ad." elsewhere for prices of admission.]

A GRAND SUCCESS.

The Forty-first Annual Meeting of the Kentucky Knights Templar A Most Memorable One

The Concert and Public Installation—Closing Scenes of the Conclave.

The business of electing officers of the Grand Commandery for the ensuing year was finished yesterday afternoon. The following is a complete list:

R. E. Grand Commander—Horace January, Maysville.
V. E. Deputy Grand Commander—John G. Montgomery, Cynthiana.
E. Grand Generalissimo—William H. Melfert, Louisville.
E. Grand Captain General—John A. Pruett, Frankfort.
E. Grand Prelate—Charles H. Fisk, Covington.
E. Grand Senior Warden—Thomas J. Flournoy, Paducah.
E. Grand Junior Warden—James D. Lewis, Bowling Green.
E. Grand Treasurer—David P. Robb, Versailles.
E. Grand Recorder—Lorenzo D. Croninger, Covington.
E. Grand Standard Bearer—Samuel H. Stone, Richmond.
E. Grand Sword Bearer—R. H. Thompson, Louisville.
E. Grand Warden—E. A. Robinson—Maysville.
E. Grand Captain of the Guard—Charles J. Vogt, Louisville.

Sir Knight Horace January was elected Grand Commander without a single dissenting vote. He has been one of the most prominent members of Maysville Commandery No. 10 for years, and is widely known as a Templar. He is greatly beloved by his brother Knights throughout the State and his recent affliction in the loss of his sight has served to place him "first in their affections and esteem."

The annual report as to the membership shows the following:

Received during the year..... 134
Loss by death and otherwise..... 52
Net gain..... 82

This increases the total membership at present to 1,546, the number a year ago being 1,464. The net gain the past year is the highest in any one year for the past five years.

Maysville Commandery No. 10 shows the highest increase—23. Henderson Commandery comes next with 22, Ryan Commandery, of Danville, next, with 15, then Webb Commandery of Lexington, with an increase of 12. The following are the three largest Commanderies in the State at present:

DeMolay Commandery, of Louisville..... 252
Louisville Commandery No. 1..... 173
Maysville Commandery No. 10..... 123

The next annual conclave will be held at Cynthiana, beginning on the third Wednesday in May, 1889.

A resolution was passed unanimously yesterday that at the future annual convales, instead of the morning parade on the first day the Grand Commandery shall repair at 10 a. m. to some church, where the Grand Prelate, or some minister designated by him, shall deliver a sermon to the Sir Knights.

The concert and public installation of the newly-elected officers of the Grand Commandery took place at the opera house last evening:

Templar Address—Rt. Rev. Sir Knight T. U. Dudley, Bishop of Kentucky.

The concert and installation was attended by one of the largest assemblages ever present at the opera house. It was a grand affair. The musical part of the programme was especially pleasant and enjoyable. The address of Right Rev. Bishop T. U. Dudley was listened to throughout with the closest attention. The distinguished speaker was highly complimented, and we regret that we are unable to give a verbatim report of his address.

A reception at the Azyum followed the ceremonies at the opera house. Gallant Knights and fair women thronged the spacious and elegant apartments. Dancing was indulged in till half-past 1 o'clock, when farewells were spoken. It was after 2 o'clock when the sweet notes of "Home, Sweet Home," were wafted o'er the waters and broke the stillness of the night as the Fleetwood and Sherlock steamed away from the city with the visitors.

NEWAY NOTES.

Eight Templars reside between Sutton and Wall, on Front street, and all of them are raising young Templars—or expect to—save one, and he will soon have the "Eastern Star Degree" conferred upon his charming family.

"Templar Row" on West Front street was a popular resort for the visiting Sir Knight and ladies. The residence of Judges Wall and Coons, and Rev. R. B. Garrett were handsomely decorated, and Sir Knight Geo. C. Keith displayed his usual taste in the array of flags, emblems &c., at his mother's residence.

The ladies of Maysville Commandery and Many of the resident Sir Knights formed themselves in procession yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock and escorted Grand Commander January and his estimable wife to the steamer Fleetwood, where they were elegantly entertained for an hour by the ladies and Sir Knights of Louisville.

The ladies of the Entertainment Committee speak in the highest praise of the management of Sir Kt. Maguire, who had charge of the dining hall at the Masonic Temple. His waiters were under complete control, and the larger the crowd the better were they attended to. At no time did he permit the immense crowd to wait for refreshments. All were waited on promptly and went away satisfied. The many visitors will remember Sir Kt. Maguire for his efforts to make the meeting a success.

There was "work" in the Mystic Shrine degree at the court house yesterday afternoon. The "hands of the desert" must have been "heated" pretty hot from the noise made. The "journey" was so long that the "camels" would have perished from thirst had not the water works display moistened the air. The Mystic Shriners didn't exactly "raise the roof" but they made "Rome howl" for about two hours. The residents near the court house took the first noise for another "earthquake." The following members of Maysville Commandery helped to contribute to the fun as candidates and are now Nobles of the Mystic Shrine: Sir Knights Judge W. P. Coons, M. C. Russell, W. C. Miner, Rev. Lewis H. Suddnth, James K. Lloyd, S. T. Nickels, and C. R. Cooley. After the ceremonies the Mystic Shriners marched from the court house to the Fleetwood, the newly-made members wearing a sort of nothing-like-it-on-earth smile. The work was done by Sir Knights Fisk, of Covington, and Ryan, of Louisville.

One of the most pleasant features of the conclave occurred at Maysville headquarters this morning at one o'clock when the Sir Knights and ladies of the Louisville commanderies marched in, accompanied by their band to serenade Grand Commander Horace January. Commander Stratton, of DeMolay No. 12, in a few feeling remarks returned thanks for the Louisville visitors to Sir Knight January and the Maysville Sir Knights for the elegant treatment they had received while here. Sir Knight W. LaRue Thomas, at the request of the Grand Commander, responded to Sir Knight Stratton. The Sir Knights and ladies then marched by in single file and each were introduced by Sir Knight Thomas to the Grand Commander and Mrs. January and gave them a hearty shake of the hand and a "God bless you." It was an occasion which will ever be remembered by all who were fortunate to witness it.

HUNGARY AND RUSSIA.

THE FORMER PREPARING FOR A CONFLICT WITH THE LATTER.

Socialists of Germany—The English Government Asks for Funds to Complete Defense—The North German Gazette's Opinion of Bismarck—Foreign Notes.

VIENNA, May 11.—The lower house of the Hungarian diet has adopted a bill empowering northern railway companies to double their railway tracks in order to facilitate the transportation of troops.

Nothing could be more significant of war than the efforts being made by Austro-Hungary to keep pace with the preparations which Russia has been making. The state of Hungary owns and works about 40 per cent. of the lines within her borders, and the remainder are owned by companies.

It is well understood that Russia is preparing for a great war, and the culmination of the policy that has been steadily pursued for a century to firmly fix herself west of the Black sea she expects to attain. How long she may continue her preparation before the inauguration of war is uncertain. The country along the Austro-Russian frontiers is as yet in no condition for undertaking military movements. The spring rains are not over and the Vistula is again rising. Moreover, the grass is not yet grown sufficiently to warrant operations with cavalry.

German Socialists.

LONDON, May 11.—Little else in the way of news is at present communicated to the outside world from Berlin except such dispatches concerning the condition of the emperor as are inspired by the dominant political authorities for purposes contemplating ulterior advantages. While we are solemnly assured of the emperor's physical vigor, his desire to take long walks and drives, his exuberance of appetite and his capacity for the transaction of important state business, we are led to believe that the wheels of the political, social and economic systems of the German empire are speedily and noiselessly moving on without the slightest friction. This, however, is not the state of affairs which exists. Not for many years have the Socialists of Germany, and incidentally of Belgium and Switzerland, been as active as they are at this moment in perfecting preparations for a grand coup.

The quantity of Socialist literature extant during the last three months is simply astounding, while the number of open, or easily accessible meetings of the organization has within the same greatly lessened.

The Socialists of Belgium and Switzerland are in active co-operation with their German brethren, and will furnish a not inconsiderable share of the bone and sinew of the peculiar underground warfare of the fraternity when the rallying signal is given.

England Asks for War Funds.

LONDON, May 11.—War Secretary Stanhope, replying to the necessity of placing the country in a proper state of defense, today declared that there was no reason for alarm. England's preparations, he asserted, would compare favorably with those of any foreign power, and proper attention was being given to military forces at the country's posts, coasting stations, etc.

It would be absolutely impossible, he said, to attack England by the Thames, and he also assured the delegation that the forces of all branches of the military service were being strengthened so that the government could put into the field at short notice an army sufficiently large to defend England and to permanently protect London. The danger did not lie in the lack of numbers, but in the incompleteness of preparations, and the government appealed to parliament to assist in averting danger by providing adequate funds to meet the increased expense of their completion.

Bismarck Falsified.

BERLIN, May 11.—The North German Gazette says that several utterances attributed to Prince Bismarck in interviews recently with noted foreigners are apocryphal, and refers those who are desirous of ascertaining the chancellor's views on the political situation to his speech in the reichstag on February 6.

That is to say, Bismarck did not say to Carl Schurz that he, Bismarck, was confident that war would be averted. What he said to the reichstag was that "Germany need not fear an attack by Russia," and that "perhaps Russia was concentrating her forces on her frontiers in order to make her diplomatic demands more effectual from the fact of having an army prepared for war behind them."

Prince Ferdinand Takes an Oath.

SOFIA, May 11.—Prince Ferdinand, in a speech at a banquet in the hall of the sorbonne at Tirnov to-day, said: "Here in this building I swore to lead Bulgaria to the goal marked out for her in history. I now repeat that oath, assuring you that, without sparing myself, I shall with heart and soul adhere to the promise I made before God and the people."

A Duel With Swords.

PARIS, May 11.—In a duel fought at Vesinet, yesterday, the Marquis Ormand was badly wounded by Baron Basmelet. The cause of the quarrel leading to the encounter remains a secret. The contestants fought with swords.

King Luis, of Portugal, Ill.

LISBON, May 11.—King Luis is thought to be in a hopeless condition of health. It is stated that he has delegated his powers of state to Prince Carlos, the heir apparent.

Foreign Notes.

The difference between the United States and Moorish governments have finally been settled.

Emperor Frederick is once more free from fever, and enabled to pass a portion of the time lying upon a sofa in his study.

In the municipal election in Lozere, Gen. Boulanger was chosen by a spontaneous vote. He also received heavy votes in several other communes.

Gen. Boulanger, in his book on the German invasion, strongly condemns colonial adventures, and says: "As long as Alsace-Lorraine is not restored to us we have no right to divide our forces, especially when the advantages aimed at are not quite clear."

The Turkish ministry has approved the Anglo-French Suez convention with modifications by which, it is stated, the porte abandons its claim to preside over the international commission. England, by the terms of the convention, recognizes the right of Turkey to transport troops through the canal to Arabia without question.

Littlewood Still Leads, With Guerrero

Second—Other Sporting Matters.
NEW YORK, May 11.—Most of the Madison Square walkers enjoyed more or less of a rest last night. Comparatively speaking, they appear in first-class condition. The extraordinary work of the Mexican was the feature of the night, and he is still traveling along in his peculiar gliding stride, apparently without any exertion. He looks as fresh as he did when he entered upon his task.

Cartwright, Hegelmen and Day have left the track in despair. The opinion of sporting men that it is anybody's race yet. They are not willing to back Littlewood to win because of the dangerous proximity of Guerrero. Between 10 and 11 o'clock Littlewood and Guerrero had a lively spurt for several laps, but the Englishman came out ahead.

The 3 p. m. score was: Littlewood, 309; Guerrero, 378; Herty, 371; Hughes, 351; Golden, 351; Noremack, 339; Dillon, 330.

Races in England.

LONDON, May 11.—At the Chester meeting the race for the Dee stakes was won by Tascano, Merry Andrew second, and Doroch third.

The race for the Great Cheshire handicap stakes was won by Theodore, Deuce of Clubs was second, and Candlemas third.

The race for Ormonde two-year-old plate was won by Screech Owl, The Apple was second, and Barbarian third.

Sporting Notes.

Ed. Corrigan has shipped Persimmons to Louisville.

The only favorite that won at Lexington Wednesday was Lela May.

Winners at the Louisville trot Wednesday were Edwin C. and Linnie.

Chevalier, Gallifet and The Lion are now favorites for the Derby at Louisville. Gallifet is in highest favor.

Said that the Dwyers will not start Hanover in the Brooklyn handicap, but will start Sir Dixon instead.

The St. Joe Kid, who is with John Robinson's circus, tackled a colored boy named Holland, at Pomeroy, and the ebullient youth mopped the ground with him in a rough-and-tumble scrap.

"K. M. Q." ARBUCKLE.

Another Chapter in the Famous Breach-of-Promise Suit.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Charles Arbuckle, the coffee merchant, against whom Miss Clara Campbell obtained a verdict of $45,000 for a breach of contract of marriage in January last, filed a notice of appeal to the general term of the supreme court just after the entry of the judgment.

The papers on appeal were not filed within the requisite time. Wednesday the general term heard argument upon a motion to dismiss the appeal.

Ex-Judge Fullerton urged that the appeal should be dismissed because the papers had not been served. John E. Parsons, counsel for Arbuckle, argued that they had been delayed by counsel for Miss Campbell because of their failure to produce the famous correspondence. Decision was reserved.

Wearied of Prohibition.

DELAWARE, O., May 11.—The city council has passed an ordinance repealing the prohibition ordinance, which was passed one year ago. The saloons will reopen Saturday, May 11.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Indications—Slightly warmer, fair weather, preceded on the lakes by rain; light to fresh southerly winds.

The bears raided the list at intervals, and helped the downward movement. The market at the present writing is dull and weak.
